SUMMARY

I'm a junior software developer with my hands on the latest programming technologies/languages like react.js and python. I'm highly interested in fields like Data science, Machine learning, Deep learning and Artificial Intelligence.

PROJECTS

Automated Emailing software using Python

- With the help of pandas and python I created an automated emailing software which reads the emails and designation from an excel file and sends a mail from an SMTP server.
- The excel file is used as the input data for the software to run.

Desktop Voice Assistant

- With the help of this software the users can perform their daily basic task just by voice commands
- The basic tasks are limited and are dependent on the user.
